PROFESSIONAL DESIGNATION DISCLOSURES:

Professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;

Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and

Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and

Item 3 - Disciplinary Information

Noesis Capital Management Corp. is required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Nicolaas B. Letschert. No events have occurred that are applicable to this Item.

Item 4 - Other Business Activities

Nicolaas B. Letschert is an indirect owner of Noesis B.V. and is entitled to normal compensation arrangements of ownership. In addition, Mr. Letschert or his staff at Noesis may recommend to other foreign clients the services of Noesis B.V. in Holland. As such, clients and prospective clients should be aware of the inherent conflict of interest through ownership of the foreign firm. Noesis mitigates this conflict by informing clients that clients are under no obligation to accept any recommendations by Mr. Letschert to use Noesis B.V.

Noesis International Holdings, Inc. is the privately held company of Ellen and Nicolaas Letschert (100% ownership).

Nicolaas Letschert also owns a private security as a passive investor. Noesis makes clients aware of this fact as another sophisticated client has also invested in the same private security. Clients should be aware that the firm does not typically recommend private securities investments to our advisory clients.

Item 5 - Additional Compensation

Nicolaas B. Letschert does not receive economic benefit, including sales awards, other prizes, and any bonus that is based, at least in part, on the number or amount of sales, client referrals, or new accounts, for providing advisory services, other than his regular salary.

Item 6 - Supervision

Noesis Capital Management Corp. has adopted, and periodically updates, its compliance manual, which includes a formal code of ethics and insider trading policies and procedures, that outlines for each employee the various rules and regulations they are required to adhere to. Mr. Letschert serves as Noesis' Chief Compliance Officer who is responsible for conducting reviews and monitoring employee activity with respect to the rules and regulations. In addition, Noesis has adopted a Code of Ethics that requires each employee to act in the best interest of clients at all times. Should you have questions related to these activities, please contact Nicolass B. Letschert, Chief Compliance Officer ("CCO") at (561) 999-9888 or via email at nletschert@noesis-capital.com.

Vice President/Chief Financial Officer - Noesis Capital Corp. (03/1995 to 02/2007)

PROFESSIONAL DESIGNATIONS:

Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA®) (2001)

PROFESSIONAL DESIGNATION DISCLOSURES:

The CFA® Charter is a globally recognized, graduate-level investment credential. Earning it demonstrates a commitment to professional ethics and expertise with the broad range of skills needed for competitive careers in the investment profession.

To earn a CFA charter, one must have four years of qualified investment work experience, become a member of CFA Institute, pledge to adhere to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct on an annual basis, apply for membership to a local CFA member society, and complete the CFA Program.

CFA Institute members and CFA Program candidates are subject to professional conduct enrollment/admission criteria and must comply with the Code and Standards. Additionally, members must annually complete and sign a Professional Conduct Statement, disclosing any allegations of professional misconduct.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA) (1993)

PROFESSIONAL DESIGNATION DISCLOSURES:

CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination.

In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two-year period or 120 hours over a three-year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy has adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or has created their own.
